WOODCHURCH is an ancient village and large parish, in the Western division of the county, Tenterden union and county court district, Blackburn hundred, lathe of Scray, rural deanery of Lympne, and archdeaconry and diocese of Canterbury, 7 miles from Ashford, 4 from Appledore station, and 5½ from Tenterden. The church of All Saints consists of chancel, two south chapels, nave, and aisles, and a tower supporting a spire containing 6 bells; it stands on high ground, on the borders of Shirley Moor, and was erected by one of the ancient family of Woodchurch, which took its name from this parish, and which was changed to Clarke on succeeding to Mountford, in Kingsworth: it is a large building, and contains a curious square font on Norman columns, also many ancient monuments to the Woodchurches, Clarkes, Her Lackendens, and others: Sir Simon de Woodchurch, buried in this church, was one of the Kentish nobles knighted at the siege of Caerlaverock by Edward I., and surnamed the Malleus Scotorum, or Smasher of the Scotch: Sir John Clarke, who distinguished himself at the battle of Poitiers, is also buried here. The register dates from 1538. The living is a rectory, annual value £610, with residence, in the gift of the Archbishop of Canterbury, and held by the Rev. Francis Ballard Wells, M.A., of Magdalen College, Oxford. There are National schools, Wesleyan and Bible Christians' chapels. Henhurst, the family residence of Mrs. Schreiber, is pleasantly situated in

WOODNESBOROUGH is a parish and village, deriving its name from Woden. The village is on a Roman road, at the foot of a spur of a chain of hills, which commands an extensive view of the surrounding country: it is in the Eastern division of the county, lower half hundred and union of Eastry, lathe of St. Augustine, county court and police district and rural deanery of Sandwich, and archdeaconry and diocese of Canterbury, a mile and a half south-west from Sandwich. The ancient church of St. Mary is a short distance from the village: it has a nave, chancel, north and south aisles, and a square tower with 4 bells, surmounted by a wooden turret: in the chancel is a brass, dated 1598, to the memory of the Rev. John Young, a former vicar of this parish. The register dates from 1561. The living is a vicarage, annual commuted value £450, with residence and 3½ acres of glebe, in the gift of the Dean and Chapter of Rochester, and held by the Rev. Henry Hotham, B.A., of Jesus College, Cambridge, who resides at Tunbridge Wells; the Rev. Stephen Ralph Spicer, M.A., of Worcester College, Oxford, is the curate. On Woodnesborough Hill great quantities of Saxon antiquities have been found at different periods. The interest on £700, left by Mrs. Stewart, is annually distributed in bread and coals to the poor who regularly attend the parish church. Sir Walter James, Bart., is lord of the manor of Grove and Shelving Court, and George Coleman, Esq., is lord of the Parsonage manor; the former, with William Gillow, Esq., and Thomas Collett, Esq., are chief land owners. The population in 1861 was 889, and the area is 2,887A., 2R. 9P. The Independents have a small chapel here. Woodnesborough and Marshborough seem to have been Roman towns or villages.

MARSHBOROUGH, half a mile north; COMB, one mile west; HAMMELL, 2 miles west; and SUMMERFIELD, 2½ miles west, are hamlets in this parish.

Parish Clerk, Isaac Burville.
